

Verified behavioral intelligence that tells you what's really going on.

Ario CoreLens is built on permissioned, SKU-level purchase data from Amazon and other top retailers — going back years, continuously, from the same people over time. Whether a report tracks a market shift or your own buyers, it shows you exactly how the change lands on you: your products, your brand, your buyers, your share, and the competitors around you — not just the category.

Industry Pulse

Deep dives on the forces reshaping CPG — GLP-1, private label, Gen Z, Prime Day — surfaced before they're obvious.

- 01 How are GLP-1 buyers shopping differently for food?
Each basket the year before vs. after onset — what softens, what rises, and which brands gain or slip.
- 02 Where are buyers trading down — and who's catching them?
Category-by-category switching to private label, and who leaves versus who stays loyal.
- 03 How did inflation change what people actually buy?
Price pass-through and real elasticity by category — smaller packs, fewer units, switching, trading down.
- 04 How does Gen Z really shop?
How loyal they are, how readily they buy dupes, what they over-index on, and how fast they move on.
- 05 Is premium pet food still on the rise — and who's trading up?
Fresh, freeze-dried, and premium brands gaining ground, and where the trade-up dollars come from.
- 06 Who's winning the energy-drink wars?
Share movement among Celsius, Alani, Red Bull and Monster — who switches to whom, and the demographics behind each.
- 07 Which Prime Day spikes actually stick?
Separates habit-forming, incremental demand from one-time deal-seeking, by category and brand.
- 08 What does the new-parent buying journey look like?
The category sequence as a baby arrives and grows, and who wins the first purchase at each stage.

Brand Vitals

Always-on reads on your own buyers — who's buying, where they switch, how the wallet splits, and how loyal they stay.

- 09 How is the category wallet split among your buyers?
True share of wallet — how much category spend goes to you versus each competitor.
- 10 When buyers leave, where do they actually go?
Follows lapsing buyers to their next purchase to quantify leakage and target win-back.
- 11 What products land in the same basket as mine?
The strongest adjacencies in your buyers' baskets — for bundling, partnerships, and media.
- 12 Who are my buyers on Amazon, really?
Age, income, household, and region drawn from real purchases — not surveys.
- 13 How often do my buyers come back?
Repeat cadence, light versus heavy buyers, and subscription or replenishment behavior.
- 14 How sticky is my buyer base?
Repeat rate, cohort retention curves, and the share of one-time versus loyal buyers.
